WATER REPELLENT TREATED WOOD

MadGuard Water Repellent

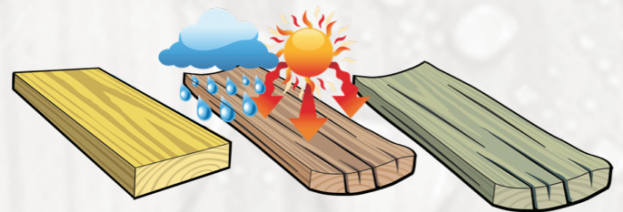

Rainy days followed by dry periods can cause checking, splitting and grain raising. When wood gets wet it swells; as it dries it shrinks.

This creates stresses within the wood which cause wood to twist, warp, cup, bow or crack. The MadGuard treatment helps to minimize this natural reaction of wood by slowing the rate at which wood absorbs and releases moisture.*

Superior Protection

MicroPro pressure treated lumber with added MadGuard water repellent will protect from termites and fungal decay and are backed by a Residential Limited Warranty through Koppers Performance Chemicals. With MadGuard, Lumber dealers get fewer complaints, less yard loss, and satisfied customers. If you want to step up your treated lumber game, request MadGuard water repellent from Madison Wood.
